DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Group I – Drawn to the hydraulic or pneumatic means of varying the dead point of the piston as shown in figures 2, 3, and 7.

Group II – Drawn to the mechanical impeller means of varying the dead point of the piston as shown in figures 4 and 4a.

Group III – Drawn to the rotary cam means of varying the dead point of the piston as shown in figure 5.

Group IV – Drawn to the screw stop means of varying the dead point of the piston as shown in figure 6.

Group V – Drawn to the means of adjusting the resonance of the piston by varying its mass as shown in figure 8.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Group I corresponds with claims 1-20.

Group II corresponds with claims 1-4, 8, 9, 10, 18-26.

Group III corresponds with claims 1-4, 8-10, 18-21, 26.

Group IV corresponds with claims 1-4, 8-10, 19, 20, 27.

Group V corresponds with claims 1-7.

The following claim(s) are generic: Claims 1-4.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Although each species group shares the linear compressor and detecting means disclosed in generic claims 1-4, these aspects of the invention are generally well known in the art and do not represent the special technical feature of the invention. The special technical feature of Group I is that the dead point of the piston can be changed by hydraulic or pneumatic means. The special technical feature of Group II is that the dead point of the piston can be changed by a mechanical linear cam. The special technical feature of Group III is that the dead point of the piston can be changed by a mechanical rotary cam. The special technical feature of Group IV is that the dead point of the piston can be changed by a screw stop mechanism. Finally, the special technical feature of Group V is that the mass of the piston can be varied by a hydraulic or pneumatic means. Thus each group has a different, mutually exclusive special technical feature which defines applicant's contribution over the prior art.

Art Unit: 3746
